Border Alert / Alerte frontalière – Pacific Highway

\~

The Pacific Highway port of entry is experiencing service disruption. \~ While the port of entry remains open, travellers should use an alternative processing site due to protest activity in the area.

\~

The ports of Aldergrove and Abbotsford-Huntington, BC are the closest alternative processing sites for commercial traffic. However, due to evolving circumstances and until further notice, the Canada Border Services Agency (CBSA) encourages you to refer to the CBSA Website for information regarding hours of service and commercial servicing at either of these sites in real time.

\~

The CBSA recognizes border disruptions affect both travellers and industry and we are working to restore normal border operations at this port of entry as quickly as possible. Thank you for your patience while we get operations back on track.

\~

Follow the situation regarding border wait times and expected delays here.
